Wants Town to Pay. The town of South Coventry has been notified by Judge Andrew J. Bowen of this city, counsel for C. A. Payne of Norwich, that the latter suffered some damage due to a defect in the highway between South Coventry and Willimantic in the town of Coventry. Mr. Payne claims that on the afternoon of July 29 while he was driving his car to this city in passing teams he had to drive his car to one teams he had to drive his car to one side of the road. In so doing he ran into a culvert that was hidden from view by weeds, bushes and vegetable growth. As a result of this alleged defect in the highway, the two front wheels of his car were broken, the wheels of his car were broken, the tires were damaged, the two front tires were damaged, the two front

Vacation Season Much in Evidence The vacation season was much, in evidence at the railroad station Saturday afternoon. All of the trains had a lot of traffic and when the 4.11 express from Boston came in therawere six heavily laden coaches and two more coaches were added to the train. All of the coaches were of the new steel pattern which carries more than the former coaches used to. The night trains also carried many people who were going to various points of ment.

Harris Saved a Woman's Life. Raymond Harris, jewelry manufac-urer of North Windham, by quick and heroic action on Friday afternoon sav-ed the life of Mrs. W. I. Nichols of North Windham, With other people he was at what is known as the "swimming hole" below William Sibley's mill. With a number of other people Mrs. Nichols was in bathing. She was on the other side of the river and started to swim across. In doing so she tried to touch bottom and lost her nerve when she couldn't touch bottom. It is quite deep at the place in question. She was seen sinking twice. Then Mr. Harris who was fully dressed, without removing any of his clothes dove into the river and swam towards Mrs. Nichols. When he reached the point where she was he had to ed the point where she was he had to dive to grasp her. Then with considerable difficulty he was able to get her ashore. Mrs. Nichols recovered from the narrow escape from death. Mr. Harris' quick action and his ability to land her safely on shore is most com-
